

WE NOMINATE

Four far-visioned Princeton University undergraduates, ranging in years from 19 to 22—John Blair Butterworth, Donald Kenneth Emmerson, Howard Garrett Pontius and John Hubbel Weiss—who over the past eight months have played major roles in developing and dramatizing the exciting concept which has now been embodied in the Kennedy Administration's Peace Corps. Some ten weeks before President Kennedy broached the idea of "youth service abroad," in an address at the University of Michigan, this quartet was organizing here on the University Campus a Point Four Youth Conference concerned with reviewing "The Challenge to American Youth from the World's Emerging Nations"

The spark for this initial "Peace Corps Conference", to which 100 colleges and universities were invited to send delegates to Princeton over the Yale football weekend (November 11-12), was struck by the 20-year old Emmerson, son of a career Foreign Service officer, who is currently serving as this country's Consul General to the Rhodesias and Nyasaland. Emmerson, a senior in the Woodrow Wilson School and currently claiming Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, as his home, was working last summer with the African-American Institute and became intrigued with the possibilities of capitalizing upon what he calls "the great untapped reservoir of energy and ability" represented by American youth.

Princeton, Emmerson recalls, "had the name and an ideal location" for such a gathering and a sponsor in the American-Whig Cliosophic Society, the nation's oldest student debating and political organization, of which Emmerson is retiring vice-president. He promptly enlisted the support of Pontius, Whig-Clio president, and Butterworth, head of the society in his sophomore year prior to drawing a year's suspension from the University. The three "senior statesmen" lost no time in projecting Emmerson's thoughts and, when the University opened in September, the stage was set. Upon the 19-year old Weiss, a sophomore and resident of Rome, N. Y., fell the "pick-and-shovel job" of running the conference.

Like Emmerson, the ebullient 22-year old Butterworth, who during his year's leave from the Campus operated a "tree surgery firm" in Colorado, is also a "Foreign Service junior"—the son of the American Ambassador to the European Economic Community. Both men share the conviction that "it would be a high honor to work shoulder to shoulder with Africans, Asians and South Americans in this great moment in history." And both have applied for positions with the Peace Corps as well as with a more advanced program, "Teachers for East Africa."

Where Emmerson was born in Tokyo and Butterworth in London, Pontius, a senior in the Woodrow Wilson School, is a native of Schenectady, N. Y., with equally deep interests in the newly developing countries. At the moment he is considering either the Foreign Service or an overseas assignment with a major American corporation, whichever in his opinion might constitute the better springboard for "politics". Late this month all four, with the seniors charging Weiss with "the heritage" of sustaining interest in the Peace Corps and allied undertakings, will be spokesmen at a Washington conference sponsored by the 400-college National Students Association and devoted to the Peace Corps.

For their efforts in helping create a pilot youth service program; for refuting the too-often heard lament about the "beat", or apathetic, generation; for their understanding of the problems and opportunities now confronting the Western World; these four men are Town Topics' nominees for

CANDIDATES CHOSEN

For Borough, Township, Council
a few hours before last Thursday's deadline, Republicans and Democrats in Princeton taped their candidates for public office and presented them to Borough and Township clerks for listing on the April 18 primary ballots.

In the Borough, Democratic Mayor Raymond F. Male will seek his third term of office in Borough Hall. To run in place of retiring Councilman
Dan D. Coyle, the Democrats have chosen Robert van de Velde, of 222 Western Way, defeated for Council by a narrow margin in last year's election. Democratic incumbent
John B. Redding 39 Linden
Lane, will join Mayor
Male in seeking re-election.

Borough Republicans have nominated for Mayor Henry S.
Patterson, 46 Westcott Road, executive vice-president of the Elizabethtown Water Company and the Somerville Water Company and a graduate of Princeton with the class of 1944.

Mr. Patterson has served for three years on the Republican County Committee. He is secretary of the New Jersey Conference for the Promotion of Better Government (a Republican organization) and is the vice-president of the Princeton Republican Club. He has made his home here since 1950.

His running-mates, who will oppose Mr. van de Velde and Mr. Redding for Borough Council, will be Alan W. Carrick and Joseph R. Wood. Mr. Carrick, 289 Prospect Avenue, is a graduate of Princeton who has lived here since 1939. He and was chairman of the Mayor's Advisory Committee on

Mr. Wood, who lives at 116
Moore Street, teaches mathematics at Princeton Country Day School. He is a member of American Legion Post 76 and vice-chairman of the Trenton
Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

In the Township, Only one Township Committee seat will be filled in this year's election.
Its incumbent, Democrat William W. Marvel, 57 Wilmor Court, announced last week that he would run again. He will be opposed by Republican
William L. Wilson, 223 Jefferson Road.

Mr. Wilson has lived in Princeton since 1949 and has served on the Board of Education and the Township Planning Board. He was president of the Board of Education for three of the six years that he served as member. Riverside and Johnson Park Schools were constructed during his presidency.

In a statement released this week, Borough Republicans said that they are seeking office "so that we can be of service in providing direction and decision to the many important problems which face the Borough of Princeton. We believe our varied experiences can be utilized to maintain the Borough as the unique place it has always been, without losing sight of the necessity for progress in our modern world."

PERSONAL TAX TO END

In Princeton Borough, Borough Council voted at its meeting Tuesday night to abolish the household personal property tax for the tax year 1962 and thereafter. The action, taken after an hour-long public hearing, was approved by Councilmen A. A. Austen, Ellwood W. Godfrey, John B.
Redding, Jr., and Alfred E.
Sorenson, with Councilman
William H. Walker opposed.
Councilman Dan D. Coyle was absent.

Similar action was taken by Princeton Township Committee at its February 8 meeting.
Township officials had estimated that it would cost one-third of the amount realized,

Mayor Male volunteered the information that the largest taxpayer in Princeton Borough was the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, with an assessment of around $550,000 including all equipment. Prior to the voting on the ordinance, Councilman Walker explained that he was opposed to abolishing the personal property tax because its elimination means that people who rent their homes will no longer pay any taxes directly to the Borough. "It seems to me that we are denying the opportunity to some voters of paying their share of the cost of government and of knowing what their share is," he said.

Zoning Matter Tabled. The question of whether or not to allow a zoning variance permitting the three-family dwelling at 20 Nassau Street to be converted into three apartments was given for further consideration by Council after a lengthy and occasionally heated discussion. The variance had been approved by the Zoning Board of Adjustment and referred to Council for approval.

Opposition to the conversion was presented by Donald R. Bryant, Jr., attorney, on behalf of residents in the vicinity. Mr. Bryant presented letters opposing the action signed by about 40 residents of Nassau Street, Princeton Avenue, Linden Lane, Evelyn Place and Quenston Place. Among the residents present at the meeting was Robert G. Donald of 7 Princeton Avenue, who said that those living in the area were against the conversion because they felt it would establish a precedent.

In other action, Borough Council: 1) Heard a suggestion from Councilman Austin that a commission be established to investigate the possibility of consolidation of the Borough and Township. 2) Set April 17 to 21 as Clean Up Week.

3) Approved the appointment of Patriman Russell Shingle as Inspector of texts and the promotion of Officer D. H. Harris to the rank of patrolman.

4) Made plans to attend a demonstration of new radar equipment next Wednesday, March 22, at 1 p.m. in Borough Hall. Police Chief Raymond Mondone said that the present Borough radar equipment is 10 years old and should be replaced.

5) Received an invitation to attend the Spring meeting of the New York District of the American Public Works Association to be held June 16 in Princeton. Borough Engineer Arthur T. Brokaw is district president.

PANELS PLANNED

BY PLCE, The Princeton United Community Fund will conduct four panel discussions with representatives of member agencies on Wednesday, March 22, at the YAI-YWCA, beginning at 12:30 p.m. Panels will be held on budget policies and procedures, public information, territory and plans for strengthening mutual programs of the Fund and member agencies. The program will conclude at 2 p.m.

PERSON TO PERSON

When the talk got around to where we get common expressions from, the kind that seem to tell a story in a short sentence, we promised to look up a few of them. One that we hear quite often is "Too many irons in the fire." That one came from the blacksmith and started in the dark ages. It came into common use because nothing quite conveys the idea that you cannot properly do too many things well as visualizing a blacksmith with so many irons in the fire that some of them melt before he can attend to them.

Another, "Fly off the handle," also comes from ancient times, and in just four words tells of the damage a flying ax head can do if the ax is swung in such anger that the head "flies off the handle." One of these old expressions tells us that human nature is pretty much the same today as it was thousands of years ago. . . the same expressions still mean the same things today.

A maxim that will always save you time and money is: "Deal only with specialists who have proven by the record that they value their integrity over a fast dollar." May we serve you soon?

ROUND-UP

This issue marks the 15th anniversary of TOWN TOPICS, which first published March 14, 1964. Its total space then was equivalent to a little over two pages of this week's 40-page issue, appropriately, Vol. 16, No. 1 carries a record-breaking total of classified advertising.

Sleepy Princetonians who wondered if they heard thunder shortly after 6 a.m. Tuesday actually did, but there was no doubt in the minds of a Bwing Township family, whose TV set was smashed and living room damaged when a lightning bolt struck the roof-top antenna. . . winter is hanging on, as a reading of last Friday and 20 on Saturday indicates, but the calendar, at least, will turn to spring Monday afternoon at 3:32.

The Borough has set the period from April 17-22 as its annual Clean-Up Week, with Princeton Post 76, American Legion, planning a paper drive at the same time. . . fire and police officials in both Princeton municipalities are suitably irritated with motorists lately chasing fire engines that they warn summonses will be issued to offenders who hinder fire-fighting effort in any way.

Olden Avenue has been closed to traffic for a week while a deep tunnel is laid across it to conduct heat and power into the University's new Engineering Quadrangle. . . to prevent needless run-arounds, Charlton and William are also closed to through traffic during the work. . . later in the spring it will close Washington Road temporarily since the tunnel will eventually extend all the way from the University power house near Baker Park to the Engineering Quadrangle. . . Borough Engineer Arthur Brokaw plans "a major conference" of the POK to discuss closing of Washington Road.

Assemblyman Edward J. Sweeney of Princeton is one of three Mercer County Democrats sponsoring a bill to double the corporate tax in New Jersey (from 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 percent of net profits) as a major step toward balancing the state budget. . . they estimate $27 million in new revenues from such a measure and favor it in place of Gov. Meyner's proposed two percent tax on utility bills and 20-25 percent tax increase in motor vehicle fees.

Tuesday's in-lushness of rain could have been the premonition of a snowstorm that the month of March has brought in for recent years save for an accompanying temperature rise. . . of ad of the week: for . . . live orange tree.

It was on Hallowe'en, 1938, that Owen Welles' little green men from Mars descended on the good folk of Grovers Mill, and the people who live in the area have been understandably sensitive about Martians and little green men ever since that celebrated radio invasion. The object shown here, lazily floating over the water of a Grovers Mill pond, is a domestic product, not a Martian, or even an Irish, export. It is known to sound considerably more sinister than this benign Irish Tam O'hanter would seem to be. The occupant of the GEM, hovering tranquilly over his pond, is not identified. Martian? TOPICS Of the Town

FOUR INJURED

In Freak Accident. Four persons were injured, one severely, when they were thrust against the glass doors of the Acme Market Friday by a car that had gone out of control. The Shopping Center accident occurred at 5:30 p.m.

As Township Police reconstruct the accident, Mrs. Roderick Malcolm, 53, 174 Moore Street, pulled up to the parcel pickup exit of the supermarket so that the parcel boy could load her groceries into the back of her car. She leaned across the back of the front seat to unlock the right rear door. As the parcel boy, James Sassman, 18, of Plainsboro, began to load the car, the vehicle jumped forward, leaped the curb and crashed into the exit doors, knocking down several women who were coming out of the store.

Mrs. Lisa Holt, 40, Blawenburg, was taken to Princeton Hospital with injuries which doctors suspected might include a fractured pelvis, but X-rays showed only back injuries and no broken bones.

Miss Edna Miller, 64, Allenstown, Pa., suffered severe lacerations from the broken glass of the doors. She was taken to the hospital and released on Saturday. Young Sassman sustained an injured right knee and a bruised chin. He was treated and released.

The other injured person was Mrs. Marjorie Janoski, 38, Blawenburg, who was bruised. Her children, Vajnor, 11; Joyce, 8 and Barbara, 5, were taken to Princeton Hospital also, but were released. Mrs. Helen C. Sawyer, 45, Trenton, was also at the scene of the accident, but was not injured. Mrs. Holt had enrolled in Princeton Hospital's School of Practical Nursing a few days before the accident. The director of the school, Mrs. Louise MacAlinden, was in the Acme parking lot when the accident occurred, and she left her car and ran to the scene to be of assistance. It was her new student whom she found injured.

CHAPIN TO EXPAND

$60,000 Building Project. The Chapin School has announced that it will celebrate its 30th anniversary with a $60,000 construction program which will involve a thorough renovation of the present school building and the construction of a new wing with two additional classrooms, kitchen facilities and a combined cafeteria, gymnasium and auditorium.

The project was announced Monday by Dr. Peter Putnam, president of the board, at the annual meeting of the school. It is scheduled for fall completion.

A plot development plan of the long-range building program of the school as developed by the firm of Charles K. Agle, was shown at the meeting. William Thompson of the architectural firm of Dana G. Stetser displayed preliminary plans for the proposed new wing, stressing that flexibility, economy, the multiple use of space and the harmonious relationship of the old and the new buildings will be emphasized.

Dr. Putnam was re-elected to the presidency of the board. Dr. Ashby Adams was elected vice-president. Mrs. Hyman Battle, secretary, and Lawrence Benson, treasurer.

WORKSHOPS PLANNED

By Community Services. Three workshops will be held Monday at YMCA under the sponsorship of the Council of Community Services, which held four similar workshops in February. The workshops will begin with lunch at 12:30 p.m. and will adjourn at 2 p.m. Reservations to be made by noon this Friday, may be obtained by calling WA-4582.

The workshops all concerned with Princeton problems, will appraise health, education and the possibilities of assisting migrant workers. Mrs. Richard L. Barach will serve as chairman of a health committee which will discuss ways in which Princeton's health problems can be solved.

Mrs. Arthur M. Sherwood will lead a workshop devoted to a discussion of parent education, child development and adult education. Mrs. Murray Lampert will guide a workshop whose major purpose is to make an index of community health services which are available for migrant families. Workshops are open to all members of the Council of Community Services and interested guests.

ROAD PLAN APPROVED

By Township Planners. The Township Planning Board accepted on Monday night the final report of the road committee, thereby making the report and its accompanying map a part of the Township Master Plan. The map will not become official, however, until it has been adopted by a Township Committee order.

This will probably not occur until 1962, according to Township Administrator Joseph Nini.

The report, presented by Hans K. Sander, chairman of the road committee, will be available with its map about April 1. Map and report are the results of a long series of Saturday morning conferences with Township residents whose properties are affected by the proposed new road system.

The Planning Board also approved, subject to the posting of a bond and a dedication, the plans of the Atlantic Refining Company to build a service station at the Junction of State Road and Cherry Valley Road on property belonging to John Moore, State Road.

The dedication consists of an eight and one-half foot strip on Cherry Valley which the Township will use in widen the road. The other half of Cherry Valley is in Montgomery Township, and Planning Board officials indicated that Montgomery will eventually widen its half, too.

The bond will be posted for certain drainage and paving work required by the Planning Board. A spokesman for Atlantic Refining suggested that, since his company was a large one with tremendous financial assets, the posting of a bond was superfluous.

STUDENTS HONORED

To Receive Fellowships. Three Princeton residents were among the 1,333 students from 381 colleges and universities throughout the United States and Canada named as Woodrow Wilson Fellows for 1961-62. They are: Miss Melje Bangers of 19 Wheatstall Lane, Swarthmore College; Miss Deborah S. Bochner, 384 Springdale Road, Smith College; and Merton C. Fort, 45 Blair Hall, Princeton University.

This year's total was the largest ever selected by the Foundation in its 15-year search for prospective college teachers. The fellowships cover the first year of graduate study and are meant to encourage the newly-elected fellows to consider college teaching as a possible career. Nominations for the highly-competitive awards are made by the students' professors.

News Of The THEATRES

IT'S TWO-A-DAY

As McCarter Ends Season.
A full schedule of events ranging from "Rumpelstiltskin" to "Hamlet" will bring to a close the spring season of McCarter Theatre on March 25.

This Friday at 8:30 p.m., The Weavers will bring their folk-songs to the theatre. This Saturday at 8:30, the A.P.A. company will present its final performance of "Twelfth Night" and this Sunday at 3:30 p.m., the Princeton Glee Club will be heard in concert with the Wellesley College Choir.

Next Monday, at 8:30 p.m., the Juilliard Quartet will appear in one of the University Concert Series II presentations. The following day, Tuesday, March 21, there will be two offerings in the theatre. In the afternoon, the Children's Theatre will present "Rumpelstiltskin" at 3:30 p.m. and in the evening, McCarter will show the French film, "A Nous La Liberté," at 8:30. Student matinees of "Hamlet" will be presented next Wednesday and Thursday at 3 p.m. and an evening performance of the work will be given next Thursday at 8:30. "Hamlet" will be played again next Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30 p.m. and Saturday at a 2:30 student matinee.

BIRTHDAYS COINCIDE

For Hamlet and Easton. Richard Easton, who will play the title role in "Hamlet" for six performances next week, will celebrate his 28th birthday on Wednesday, March 22, the date of the opening school matinee. According to the gravedigger's scene, Hamlet was 28 years of age at the time of the play.

Playing Hamlet on his birthday is nothing new to Mr. Easton who marked his 18th and 20th birthdays while taking that role in Montreal. Hailed as "Canada's finest Hamlet," he has appeared in all three Stratford Shakespeare festivals.

The Association of Producing Artists will use the First Quarto's gravedigger's scene in its "Hamlet" next week. Most productions use the Second Quarto as the source for that scene.

Evening performances of "Hamlet" will be held at 8:30 on Thursday, Friday and Saturday (March 22, 23, and 24). A few seats remain for the school matinee at 2:30 on Saturday, March 25.

MRS. KEENE ELECTED
Heads Community Players. Mrs. Byron Keene, known professionally as Frances Keene, has been elected President of the Princeton Community Players.

Other officers are Betty (Mrs. Paul) Fussell, first vice president; Fred Shelton, second vice president; John Drury, treasurer, and Corinne Steinline, secretary.

WHAT'S MY NAME? That grumpy dwarf, Rumpelstiltskin, who prefers anonymity to publicity, will appear on the McCarter stage Tuesday for the pleasure of Princeton's youngest theatre-goers, all of whom will be "in" on the secret of his name while the miller's daughter tries desperately to guess it.

The Community Players are currently joining with the McCarter Company and the Princeton University Triangles Club, under the name "P. J. and B. Players," for the April production of the musical "Guys and Dolls."

PLAYS AND TALKS SET

By Theatre Intime. A show combining two one-act plays with talks on theatrical techniques and interpretation will be presented next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 22, 23 and 24, by Theatre Intime. The show will be staged at 8:30 p.m. in Murray Theatre on the University Campus.

The two plays to be presented are Tennessee Williams' "Twent-Seven Wagners Full of Cotton" and "Purifications." Commentaries will be given by the directors, Colin Hill and Bill Harman. A representative of the Association of Producing Artists, which is currently Swiss Family Robinson (March 15-21) is a combination of two of Walt Disney's most famous types of productions, the Mickey Mouse Club and the true-life adventure. It is all lumped together under the title of the classic adventure story by Johann Wyss, but the title is the only remnant of the original.

Added to the original simple plot of a togetherness version of "Robinson Crusoe," are a band of pirates, a captured maiden and a love affair between her (Janet Munro) and the elder sons of the family (James MacArthur and Tommy Kirk). John Mills and Dorothy McGuire head the family which is marooned on an island which can only be

THIS MUST BE THE PLACE: John Mills and Dorothy McGuire arrive with the rest of their family on the site of their new home in Walt Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson" now showing at the Playhouse. The technicolor, freshly-adapted version of Johann Wyss' story will run through Tuesday.

 the Bronx Zoo, from the various animals living there. Shipwrecked, without food, without hope, the industrious little family manages to build a split-level treehouse and also manufacture grenades to defend it from the pirates. Ex-Mouseketeer Kevin Corcoran is properly mischievous as the younger son, "Swiss Family Robinson" is as corny as "Three Worlds of Gulliver" and will probably make twice as much money. In color and Panavision.

"Cimarron" (March 22-28). While the Garden continues its admirable series of Monday re-runs, we are treated at the Playhouse with a not-so-admirable series of re-makes, of which "Cimarron" is the latest example. It would seem that any picture filmed before the advent of wide-screen and color must therefore be inadequate for modern viewing.

Edna Ferber's "Cimarron" was filmed in 1931 by RKO and starred Richard Dix and Irene Dunne. It is still considered one of the outstanding Westerns of all time. The 1961 version, starring Glen Ford and Maria Schell, has more color, more screen space, a larger cast to fill it and a poorer grade of actors. The one spectacular scene, however, that of the land race for the Oklahoma territory, is very exciting and lavishly staged.

Ford has a strange role as Yancey Cravat, the adventure known as Cimarron, who moves in and out of the story. After his initial settling in Oklahoma, he leaves his family for five years, returns and then leaves again for 12 more. The acting load therefore falls upon Miss Schell (one of Germany's top actresses making her third American picture) as his wife, a role she handles very well. In color and CinemaScope, with Anne Baxter, Arthur O'Connell and the Roger Wagner Chorus.

THE GARDEN
 Man In A Cocked Hat (March 14-21). Another in the series of uniformly funny films Peter Sellers has been turning out at a formidable rate in the last couple of years. In addition to Sellers, the Boulton Brothers release features Terry-Thomas, who regularly looks as if he has just swallowed a banana sideways. Terry-Thomas (is that his first name, his last name, both, or what?) is a special British ambassador to the United States which the home government has suddenly taken renewed interest because rich mineral deposits have been discovered within its borders. Sellers is the suave, corrupt prime minister of the colonial government. There are plots and counterplots, and before it ends the little country has become a major battleground in the cold war.

Although the story-line may not always hang together, some scenes of political satire, particularly a few United Nations speeches are amusing enough to keep the picture moving. These kinds of things were funny in "The Mouse That Roared," and they're funny here.

Rebel Without a Cause (March 20). James Dean made only three pictures before his death, and this was the only one in which he had the sole major lead. His moving portrayal of a forlorn, misunderstood teenager led to his becoming almost an idol for the younger generation.

While this picture exaggerates the state of American youth, it is worth seeing because of Dean's performance. The movie also introduced theatre audiences to Natalie Wood and Sal Mineo, a good actor before he grew up. In color and CinemaScope. Recommended.

The League of Gentlemen (March 21-25). Is another of the subtle, comedy-thriller that the English film-makers seems to have so much success with. Starring Jack Hawkins and Nigel Patrick, this picture is like Alec Guinness' "Ladykillers" with white tie and tails.

Hawkins is an ex-Lieutenant Colonel in the Army who rents his fortune to the Post Office, banking and electrical installations systems, and sets up a massive bank robbery plan on a scale approximating a full-scale military operation. Working from an American (natural) source novel, "The Golden Fleece," Hawkins organizes his League of Gentlemen from old Army records, and proceeds with the fantastic, intricate and complex scheme, "Operation Golden Fleece." Director Basil Dearden directs the picture with a nice balance between comedy and suspense. Recommended.

IT'S NEW To Us

LIT. BY HAND
New Shades at Shop. A little hand-made lampshade, perched on a pewter lamp to enhance the lamp, has attracted so much attention at The Country Mouse that the shop now has the lampshade itself and a collection of matching materials for sale, all hand made by the Woodstock Workshop and all designed with the country motif.

These shades (hexagons, drums or small clip on), are made of Schumacher fabrics which describe cigarette smokers, clipper-ships, old taverns and their signs or botanical dissections. Other patterns are in the works, Country Mouse says.

Blenko the glass company has produced a small school of fish designed to hold even smaller fish. The one we saw is an eight inch fish made of glass half an inch thick. He stands on his fins with his mouth wide open and his insides filled with water and a half of water.

Swimming around in his digestive tract is an impudent guppy who obviously knows that he is devastatingly attractive against the colored stones in the bottom of the glass fish. $11.95. A bigger fish-howl — quite literally — stands a couple of inches taller and holds a quart of water.

Blenko also has a pair of splendid decanters made from the original Williamsburg molds and cast in clear glass with slight imperfections that make it look very 18th century. One is a square-bottom captain's decanter, the other a tall apothecary jar, with small mouth.

Royal blue, pale orchid green or white glass reflects the light of a wick hurried in the wax inside the tumbler. The candle-glasses are pineapple shaped, for indoor or outdoor use.

Incidentally, those jewel colored stones in the bottom of the Blenko fish are $1.50 a box.

For $14.95, you may buy a charming little steeple clock only six inches high or, for more, a 15-inch model. The

Sing Along

At The Country Mouse, you may now buy an inch-thick volume called "Songs for Singing" House-mothers," containing words and music of more than a hundred—ah, classics.

Here you will find an astounding diversity which comprises "St. James Infirmary Blues," "The Twelve Days of Christmas," a smattering of Calypso and that fine old hymn tune, who Threw the Overalls in Mrs. Murphy's Chowder?"

We also found "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child." Do not infer, however, that this volume is for those after-nursery-school hours. Many of the songs are over 21, to say the least. "In the hills of West Virginia lived a girl..." etc.) had should be examined closely before they are turned over to the kids.

The book costs $1.95. When we say "music," by the way, it had to be polyphonic, you're on your own.

little one is a 30-hour alarm clock with a Roman face and a walnut frame. Delightful in country kitchen.

From somewhere or other, Country Mouse has acquired a collection of one-dollar pamphlets which reproduce various 19th century phenomena. Six children's books from the 1850's, (six for $1), an old fashioned picture book, pages from an early American school book and pictures of mid-18th century toys are all represented in the collection. Nice for a small convalescent.

And for a collector, large or small, Country Mouse has an old stereoscopic like the ages that used to be on pre-TV library tables. Lots of pictures of solemn Indians, family groups, Niagara falls and the like come with the viewer.

For 98 cents each, you may take your choice from a large collection of Belgian linen tea towels with fanciful designs that will wrap nicely around any saucer. There's a calico cat on an orange ground (olive or wine), various herbs displayed against pink, a row of paperdoll children and something that looks like tea paper.

Speaking of tea, Country Mouse suggests 35 cents samples of tea, either in little tin canisters, to be purchased individually or arranged together six in a row, on a little wicker rack.

In honor of you-know-who, the shop has a wedge of Irish blarney cheese, a semi-soft cheese (wouldn't you know?), a hit on the sharp side, for 89 cents.

SPRING IS A KNIT
For the Traveling Kind. Kimberly, one eye on the calendar if not on the weather outside, has sent to Mary Gill an ensemble of knit dresses done with a light hand for spring and for summer travel to places like Eneland and San Francisco where 80 degrees is a hot day.

Our favorite is a white nubbin knit sheath with a bow on each shoulder and little else, and a straight boat neck. Obviously destined more for after-you're-there than on-the-way.

An all wool dress, knit in a way that combines suppleness with body, has a straight skirt, a short-sleeved, U-neck blouse and a straight tacket with headed collar and low pockets. We saw it in a smelly hat.

There's another outfit. In wool and rayon with a short jacket that goes over a one-piece dress, and a full dress in bright cherry red (powder blue) with a casual collar and sleeves that cover the elbow.

Orion risk makes a boat neck dress with short rayon sleeves. Continued on Page 10

MUSIC In Princeton

WELLESLEY CLUB HOST

To College Choir. Members of the Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey will serve as hostesses to the members of the Wellesley College Choir this Saturday and Sunday. The Princeton University Glee Club and the Wellesley Choir will present a joint concert Sunday at 3:30 p.m. in McCarter Theatre.

Separate performances by each group will be given in the first part of the concert. Joint performances of Haydn's "Missa in Tempore Belli," popularly known as the "Kettledrum Mass," will be given in the second half of the program. The performance will feature 160 combined voices, accompanied by a chamber orchestra especially selected for this performance. Solo parts will be sung by Janice Harsanyi, soprano; Diane Curry, alto; Robert Holland, tenor, and Woodward Waeche, bass.

Members of the Wellesley Choir, which is comprised of more than 80 students, will be guests in the homes of Wellesley alumnae and parents of Wellesley students. Mrs. Bryce Maxwell of 19 McCosh Circle is in charge of arrangements for housing. The Princeton Glee Club has planned dinners for the Wellesley students and there will be a dance Saturday night.

Tickets to the Sunday concert, at $1.25, $1.75, and $2.50, are now on sale at the University Store. They will also be available at the McCarter box office the afternoon of the concert.

MOZART TO BE FEATURED
Of Series II Concert. Mozart's "Quintet in G Minor, K. 516," considered one of his greatest and most revealing masterpieces, will be featured Monday in the final concert of Series II of the Princeton University Concerts, to be held at 8:30 p.m. in McCarter Theatre.

The concert will be given by the Juilliard String Quartet, comprised of Robert Mann and Isidore Cohen, violists; Raphael Hillyer, violinist, and Adam, cellist. Walter Trampler, violinist, will join the quartet for the performance of the Mozart work. Mr. Trampler came to this country from Germany in 1929 and has had a successful career as a soloist, a member of the Boston Symphony, founder and member of the New Music Quartet, and a participant in the Aspen Festival and School of Music.

In addition to the Mozart quintet, two quartets will be included in the program of Monday's concert. They are Beethoven's "Quartet in F minor, Opus 95," which he wrote in 1810 during the period when his genius was at its height, and which he called "Quartet Serioso," and the "Fifth Quartet" by Bartok, written in 1934.

The Juilliard Quartet was founded in 1946 by William Schuman, president of the Juilliard School of Music, in order that the school might have a good quartet - in residence. Since then the group has toured extensively in Europe and the United States, including an invitation performance at the Bartok Festival in Budapest in 1958.

Tickets for this concert are on sale at the University Store and will also be sold at the McCarter box office the evening of the concert. A few single tickets are now available to undergraduates, graduate students and students of the Westminster Choir College and the Theological Seminary at the series rate of $1, $1.50 and $2, depending upon location. If all seats are sold prior to the concert, 50 standing room tickets at 75 cents each will be on sale at the McCarter box office beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

CONDUCTOR: Dr. Elaine Brown will direct Westminster Choir in its April 4th concert in McCarter Theatre.

DR. BROWN TO CONDUCT
Choir Concert Here. Dr. Elaine Brown, guest conductor of the touring Westminster Choir this year, will conduct its concert on Tuesday, April 4, at 8 p.m. in McCarter Theatre. The choir has just returned from a Midwest tour and this will be its "homecoming" concert.

Dr. Brown, founder and director of the Philadelphia Singing City' program, is herself a graduate of Westminster Choir College and served as assistant conductor of the Westminster Choir for five years, touring the United States and 15 European countries. She has served on the faculties of the Choir College, Temple University, Juilliard School of Music and Union Theological Seminary.

While at Temple, Dr. Brown was responsible for the introduction of a new curriculum leading to one of the few B.A. degrees in Choral Conducting in the nation. In the summer of 1953 a special choir from Temple, under Dr. Brown's direction, represented college choral music at the first International Music Educators' Conference in Brussels, Belgium. This choir attended the conference at the invitation of UNESCO and the International Music Council, and under the sponsorship of the State Department.

Tickets for the April 4 concert are now on sale at the Princeton University Store.

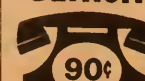

At Youth Concert. Selections by two Princeton composers will be heard on Monday, March 27, in the first of two Youth Concerts to be presented by the Princeton Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi. The concert sponsored by the Princeton Township PTAs, will be given in McCarter Theatre at 3:30 p.m. Tickets may be obtained at the box-office on the day of the concert or reserved through Mrs. Phillip Quigg, 268 Russell Road.

The first of the two works is "Excavation," by Frank Lewin, composed especially for the tenth anniversary of the Princeton Symphony. The second is a group of sea shanties arranged by Mrs. Dorothy Commins.

Mr. Lewin, who studied at New York conservatories and then at Yale, where he received his bachelor of music degree in 1951, has composed various commissioned works including a concerto for harp, mandolin and orchestra and a song cycle, "Innocence and Experience," based on the poems of William Blake.

In addition to the Lewin and Commins compositions, the program will include Haydn's Symphony No. 95 (third and fourth movements) and the third movement of the Brahms Violin Concerto, Opus 77.

CONTEST OPENS

For Young Songwriters. Boys and girls in grades five through eight will be eligible to enter the 1961 Songwriting Contest sponsored by the Music Study Group. The contest will end on March 31 and winners will be announced soon after.

There will be two classes of competition. In Class I, the General Class, contestants must compose an original melody to verses which have been approved by the student's music teacher. In Class II, the Special Class, contestants will compose an accompaniment to the melody, a melody with obligato for violin or flute and two voice parts.

Judges will be chosen from members of the Music Study Group or other groups with an interest in music. Participating schools will be Nassau Street, Witherspoon Street, Valley Road, Littlebrook, Riverside, Johnson Park, Miss Fine's and Country Day. Mrs. E. G. Weaver is chairman of the contest.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET
At Mahaim Peyton's. The Princeton Music Club will meet next Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Peyton, 3 Greenholm.

The program for the occasion will be given by Mathilde McKinney, Joyce Gill, Kay Stroup, David Wells and Phyllis Rappaport.

DEAR TRAVELEX,

Our cruise to Nassau gave us plenty of time for a full day at Paradise Beach. Took a long walk and found lots of shells and pieces of Coral. The clear green water (70 degrees F) is really a beautiful site to see!

We bought straw hats and things at the Native Straw Market and found that putting all gifts and purchases in a large straw bag simplified Customs inspection.

The weather was perfect and the sailing so smooth that only once did we have enough seas to really know we were sailing the Mighty Atlantic Ocean.

Nothing to do but Eat, Sleep, Lie in the Sun... hard to get back to real life! As the Natives say—Thas' all MONI!

MAILBOX

Objects to Chain Letters.
To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS: Some ill advised persons in the Princeton-Trenton area are hastily engaged in sending out chain letters. These are of the usual type containing a prayer and a curse as well as the direction that the recipient is to send out thirteen identical ones. I have received two such letters in two days.

You will be so good as to bring to the attention of your readers the fact that using the mails for the distribution of chain letters is a Federal offense and is punishable as such.

Help Your Fireman
An appeal to all Princeton residents for cooperation with the Fire Department was issued at Tuesday's meeting of the Borough Council by Councilman Ellwood W. Godfrey. He asked that citizens help in two ways:

- 1) Don't call Police Headquarters to ask about a fire until at least 15 minutes after the alarm has been sounded. Incoming calls have been so numerous they have been prevented essential outgoing calls.
- 2) If you must follow fire trucks to the scene of a fire, be sure to leave your car well out of the way so the entrance is kept clear. Other trucks may be on the way and trucks may have to leave in a hurry to answer another call.

THE WAY TO A MAN'S HEART is through his stomach, so Mrs. Robert G. Decker (left) and Mrs. James Golden do not serve their husbands TV dinners and prepared foods.

Question of the Week

Question: Do you think housewives, in cooking today, depend too much on frozen foods, TV dinners and other prepared dishes?

Where asked: Acme Market, Princeton Shopping Center.

Mrs. John Ellsworth, 811 Stone Road, Princeton Junction, housewife: I think not. In fact, I've heard it said among our women's clubs that some men actually prefer prepared foods. But the old timers, I imagine, would rather have their wives stay at home and cook. It's one way they have of keeping their wives at home.

Mrs. William D. Houghton, 808 Princeton-Kingston Road, housewife: Your statement implies that it is wrong. Does it make food taste any better because you spend more time in cooking? It just gives you more time to ruin it. I don't see anything wrong in using these foods any more than it is wrong to drive a car using an automatic transmission.

Jeremiah Ford, Port Mercer Road, Windsor Township, employee of Kassler and Weissbecker, architectural firm: Yes, but I feel these foods are the natural product of an industrial age. I think we are due for many more instant products so let's hope they improve.

Mrs. George Field, 30 Linden Lane, housewife: Yes, I think so. I just came back from France and I spent about twice as long preparing the main meal of the day over there as I do now at home. I felt it was worthwhile and my husband did too. I was trying to keep up with the wonderful French style of cooking. Of course I feel frozen foods are a great help but using them too much takes the imagination out of cooking. I have never used a TV dinner and I don't intend to.

Bernardus Buitenhuis, Solar Motel, U.S.I., owner of motel: I think a lot of the women do. We never eat them because I hate them. There's nothing like a home-cooked meal.

Mrs. Robert C. Decker, 156 Moore Street, housewife: Speaking for myself, I've never had a TV dinner. I don't use these foods. But I do feel they are all right for a working person or for use in emergencies.

Mrs. James Golden, Laurel Avenue, Kingston, cashier clerk: I think the wives that stay home all day depend on them more than working wives do. Most working women wouldn't serve their husbands TV dinners. When we go home we want something substantial and we want our husbands to eat substantial food, too. You can't work on a TV dinner. There isn't anything to them.

Martin Drift, Skillman, farmer: That's right. My opinion is that women today have the finest of cooking stoves and equipment, yet they are cooking less than ever before. They buy a lot of prepared stuff. Nobody buys food any more in large quantities for preserving or canning.

Mrs. Richard Siegel, Princeton Avenue, Rocky Hill, housewife: I think cooking should be related to the needs of each particular family. We men ought not to compete with other families trying to cook elaborate dishes. To some families, cooking or cooking in a particular way is very important; other families might want to spend their energy in another way. Also the same family at different times might want a cooking differently. Cooking should be as flexible as possible—never competitive.

Michael Ferrio, 73 Longwood Drive, Groveville, seafood manager: I would say so, yes. All you have to do is go by a few cars. You'll see a lot of frozen dinners and all.

Mrs. Howard Peck, 501 State Road, housewife: Well, don't. But I can't work or other women. My husband likes to have his meals home-cooked.

Nicholas Foldetta, Chestnut Street, Trenton, produce manager: Yes, I can tell personally that since frozen and prepared foods have come out, their use has increased tremendously. It's nation-wide. You can get this from any marketing magazine. My own wife uses a lot more of these foods. The quality is there; there's nothing artificial about them. I would say they are as good as fresh foods.

Mrs. Edith Jackson, 638 Lake Drive, housewife: I don't think so. A good housewife likes to do something different once in a while. She'll use her cookbook to see what she can do with fresh fruits and vegetables that are on hand. I myself prefer fresh meat and seafood rather than frozen and I feel there are a lot of people who feel as I do.

Calvin Lovering, Blawenburg, boiler fireman: Some of them do. It's a lot easier. We use them a little. Mostly when my wife is out. Otherwise our meals are still home-cooked—the best way.

Mrs. Robert Leigh, Opussum Road, Skillman, housewife: Not in frozen foods and TV dinners but perhaps they are in prepared cake mixes. They're faster and just about as good as a cake made from scratch. They just don't stay as fresh as long. I think the TV dinners are too expensive and they aren't that good yet.

Joseph Miller, Mountaintop Road, Nashanic, landscape: I think so. That frozen stuff is all right, but you sure can't get away from a good, old-fashioned home cooked meal.

Mrs. Ann Perpetua, 244 M. Lucas Road, housewife: That depends. Sometimes time is limited and you have to depend on it. Otherwise I think housewives cook a good meal for their families. I happen to love cooking. Some women don't. These foods are just a convenience for a person that doesn't care to cook.

Mrs. Herbert Graef, Brunswick Pike, housewife: No, I don't think they do. You can still bake the old fashion way if you want to. You don't have to get it out of a box. It is all according to one's taste. I don't buy them myself because my husband doesn't care for packaged food.

Sane Comment:

First Priority For President Kennedy

By David R. Inglis

Physicist.

Argonne National Laboratory

A controlled nuclear test ban would be a great achievement primarily because it would reduce the likelihood that nuclear war will break out, not because it would make war less devastating if it should occur. A test ban would also reassure the world on the question of peace-time fallout.

A controlled test-ban agreement between the great nuclear nations would mark the start of efforts to bring other countries into the pact. Most nations will probably welcome the opportunity to cooperate, but a few may present difficulties which will constitute a challenge to statesmanship.

This challenge must be faced else there will be many nuclear powers and greatly enhanced danger of nuclear war in the future. It cannot be faced unless we first reach agreement with the Soviet Union on a test ban.

Gains From Test Ban

There will be other important gains from a test ban. It will limit the development of more effective weapons to make surprise attack still more devastating. With a test ban, national leaders may begin to feel less desperate about the otherwise endless spiral of the arms race. The temptation to launch a surprise attack to forestall future developments may thus be reduced. With the experience gained in a test ban, disarmament measures requiring more detailed inspection and greater reliance on international institutions may become possible, with a consequent important reduction in the emotionally increasing danger that war will occur by accident.

The Soviets probably want a test ban for the right reason—fear of accidental war—and it is to be hoped that the Kennedy administration, by wise negotiation and unity of purpose, can induce them to display further flexibility on the number of inspection trips for test-ban control so as to make the signing of an effective agreement possible this year.

Dangers Exaggerated

The control system cannot be perfect in its ability to detect small clandestine tests. The agreement, being negotiated, will provide detection of underground tests down to about a tenth of a percent of the power of a big H-bomb.

Technical improvement by intensive research is expected to push the limit considerably lower. The clamor which has been raised against a test ban is based on fears of the possible consequences of evasion if it is too late.

The Russians in this range of "small" tests. In my opinion, these fears have been dangerously and improperly exaggerated, as I have explained at length in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists for May, 1960.

First, there have been fantastic claims about the technical possibilities. The touted "neutron bomb" is really not something so revolutionary as to upset the world balance, but is based on the principles of an old A-bomb so trimmed down as to reduce the blast damage relative to the neutron output. It would be extravagant of nuclear materials and of dubious value because of the "slow kill" of many of its victims. The other proposal, the fission-free fusion bomb, is based on such a radically new principle as to be almost surely impossible. If it were possible, its main advantage would be its cheapness in small sizes.

Second, fears of evasion have been exaggerated by magnifying the importance of having an even greater variety of small "tactical" weapons than we now have. There is no "dividing line" between small and large nuclear weapons, and small ones cannot be safely substituted for conventional forces in a small military action, for fear of touch-off general nuclear war.

Attempts at Evade Unlikely. Third, it has been claimed that a small weapon like the "neutron bomb" if it could be developed by sneak tests, would be of crucial importance for the Russians. However, they do not have such a superabundance of costly nuclear materials as we do to "waste" on inefficient small weapons. Because the consequences of cheating would be much less important than has been claimed, the incentives to cheat are small and it seems unlikely that evasion would be attempted.

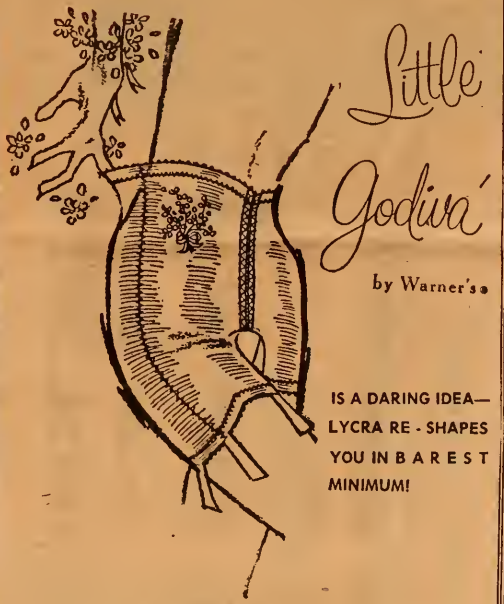

Our new administration has a crucial opportunity to try to achieve a valuable testban agreement if remaining doubts about small-scale evasion are cleared in a responsible and compared with the vital importance of starting to taper off the nuclear arms race before it is too late.

SPORTS In Princeton

SWIMMERS EXCEL

In Intercollegiate Heat. The finest performance ever credited to a Princeton swimming team in the Eastern Intercollegiate was staged Friday and Saturday before a home crowd banked above Dillon Pool. The Tigers were victorious in four events: the 100 and 200-yard backstroke, the 100-yard breaststroke and the 400-yard medley relay.

The showing was a tremendous credit to Coach Bob Cloutworthy, under whose guidance a renaissance in the sport has slowly been taking shape. The individual victories by Junior Tom Welch in the backstroke and sophomore Gardiner Green in the breaststroke marked the first time that the Tigers have ever had two champions crowned in one Intercollegiate Championship meet.

Green began his two-day performance by losing an extremely close final in the 200-yard breaststroke to Peter Zoragay, a Hungarian refugee now enrolled at the University of North Carolina. On Saturday, however, he twice set a new national collegiate record in the 100-yard event, being clocked in a great 1:02.4 in he won the title.

Welch showed clear-cut superiority over Yale's ace, Bob Boni, in the backstroke, defeating him four times in all during the course of the meet. He won the 100-yard event in 1:01.1 and the 200-yard title in 2:06.1.

The 400-yard medley relay, one of the most picturesque races on the entire program, was as exciting an occasion as Dillon Pool has seen in many seasons. Welch and Green were paired with butterfly artist Bill Hilliard and freestyle John Greist.

The Tigers led all the way, with the two individual champions opening up a one-yard margin and Hilliard maintaining it Greist, clocked in a 50.9 anchor leg, had to fight off the efforts of all-American freestylers from Harvard and Navy, touching a fifth of a second ahead of the midshipman to win.

Princeton's winning time was a meet record: 3:45.1. Cloutworthy has announced that he will enter his championship quartet in the national intercollegiate in Seattle later this spring.

Top individual performance of the three-day meet was credited to Yale's Bill Chase, who defended his titles successfully in the 220, 440 and 1500-yard events, breaking the meet record on each occasion with all a total of 23 Dillon Pool and meet records were set.

RELAY TEAM WINS

In ICA-A Track Meet. A Princeton relay, a victory in the indoor ICA-A track meet at Madison Square Garden, was recorded Saturday by the mile relay team.

The championship "w" was achieved on the wings of a tremendous 47.7 anchor leg by Captain Dick Edmunds, who not only made up a 10-yard deficit but finished in front with two yards to spare. Running with him were Forrest Walpole, Walt Axoy and John Gardner; the time, a very good 3:20.

CAMPBELL IS SECOND

In Basketball Scoring. An 18.1 average over the course of the Ivy Basketball race earned runner-up honors for Pete Campbell of Princeton in the individual scoring race. George Ramming, Dartmouth captain, won with 288 points to Campbell's 233.

Al Kaemmerling, Princeton center, was fourth with 238 points, and second to Ramming in rebounds with 179. The big Indian cleared the boards 197 times, thus becoming the first player in nine years to win both the scoring and rebounding titles.

Princeton's average of 73.8 points per game placed the defensive statistics. Penn led the circuit on defense, allowing 59 points on the average.

The Quakers completely dominated the Tigers in the final game of the regular season, whipping them, 88-43, at the Palestra last Wednesday. Constant defensive lapses on Princeton's part were largely responsible for the one-sided outcome.

Penn took an early lead, and was never headed; it was 45-30

Brothers Are Captains

In addition to the five Country Day School alumni listed last week as either 1961 or 1962 captains of their hockey teams, two brothers have served in that capacity during the past season.

Oliver Hamill is captain of St. George's in Newport, R.I., while Bill Hamill led the Rectory School team of Pomfret, Conn. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hamill of Carter Road.

Sports In Princeton

Jake Haertl was the other choice for a forward position, while Harvard's defenseman, Harry Howell and Bob Anderson, and its goalie, Bob Bland, filled the remaining positions. No Princetonian placed on the second team, which was also dominated by the championship Harvard sextet.

SULLIVAN NAMED

Hockey Captains for '61-'62. The first sophomore to be elected hockey captain in 23 years was chosen last week to head Princeton's skaters in 1961-62. He is Austin P. Sullivan, a Princeton resident who is an alumnus of Country Day and Lawrenceville.

Sullivan played only the second half of the past season, ending academic ineligibility after the exams in January. He earned a starting berth as defenseman immediately, saw constant action and added a scoring punch with 10 points in the eight games in which he played. His mother is Mrs. Edgar M. Gemmell of Province Line Road.

The Blackwell Trophy, highest honor awarded to a Princeton hockey player, went to senior Perry Hall. The first line center was selected for contributing most in "play, sportsmanship and influence."

SHIFT IN SCENE

For Tiger Nine. When the Princeton University baseball team opens a 25-game schedule on the afternoon of Friday, March 21, it will play on the new diamond east of Palmer Stadium. As yet unnamed, the area replaces University Field, which completed more than six decades of use last summer when it gave way to the new Engineering Quadrangle.

The University of Massachusetts will provide the opposition in the Tigers' first game of the new site. The field actually has been in use for a year, since the freshmen played on it last spring after Brokaw Field gave way to the new tennis courts.

Seventeen home games, an unusually large number, are on the 1961 schedule for Coach Eddie Donovan's team. Five of them will be played against Eastern Intercollegiate League opponents, with Brown and Harvard due here on April 14 and 15 to give Princeton its first shot at the 1961 title.

Bob Myslik, a steady third baseman who can field and hit equally well, is the 1961 captain. The Tigers will be out to better last year's 13-11 mark and 4-5 standing in the league.

The 1961 schedule:

March 21, Massachusetts; April 1, Maine; 3, Seton Hall; 7, Rutgers at New Brunswick; 8, Amherst; 12, Villanova at Villanova; 14, Brown; 15, Harvard; 19, Fordham; 20, C.C.N.Y.; 22, Cornell at Ithaca; 26, Columbia; 29, Dartmouth at Haver.

May 4, N.Y.U.; 6, Army; 11, Manhattan; 13, Yale at New Haven; 16, Navy at Annapolis; 19, Rutgers; 20, Pennsylvania; May 27, Colgate; June 3, Yale at New Haven; 6, Lafayette; 7, Rider; 10, Yale.

PLAYERS TO TEACH

In Lacrosse Clinic. Members of Princeton University's varsity lacrosse team and Coach Ferrie Thomson will conduct a lacrosse clinic for boys 9 through 15 on Saturday, March 25, on Fox Field. The program will begin at noon with a lacrosse movie to be shown in 411 McCormick Hall.

CAPTAIN - ELECT: Austin Sullivan, Princeton resident, has been chosen to lead next winter's Princeton hockey team.

Purpose of the clinic is to acquaint youngsters with the sport. Demonstrations will be given concerning equipment, techniques and rules. Interested latters have also been invited.

Varsity players participating include several who are also well known in other sports. They are: Tommy Campbell, hockey defenseman; Perry Hall, hockey; Dick Eckfeldt, football center; Mike Burton, basketball; and Hugh Scott, hockey and football.

Following the clinic, Princeton will open its 1961 season against the Philadelphia Lacrosse Club at 2 p.m. Both the game and clinic will be open to interested persons without charge.

HUN DROPS FINALE

To Pennington School. The champion of the Penn-Jersey League, Pennington, gained its 10th victory last week by defeating Hun School for the second time this season, 46-31. The Red and Black ended with a 6-4 league record.

The outcome of the game was in doubt until the final quarter when the visiting Red Raiders outscored the losers, 12-3. Jay Maynell led Hun's shooters with nine points, followed by Gary Grover with seven.

YMCA LOSSES GROUND

In Industrial League. A 62-51 setback to Opinion Research Corporation, dropped YMCA into third place in the YMCA Research and Industrial Basketball League. With only one week of play remaining, unbeaten RCA Labs maintained its insurmountable lead by top.—Continued on Page 25

YMCA (54) was upended by ORC on the shooting of Ray Tamsi and Fred Monroy who hit for 34 and 15 points, respectively. The win moved the Researchers (4-3) into a fourth place tie with FMC. Jack Nolan with 22 was the only loser to hit double figures.

The 3 B's moved into second place with an eight victory over RCA Astro who has yet to win in nine outings. Dan Sculerati pumped in 14 points to pace the Victors to their fourth straight triumph.

In the final contest, FMC was no match for the inexorable RCA Labs, losing its fifth game, 54-33. Tony Buccafonzi, Bill Ehnott and Ben Duncan all hit double figures to lead the Labs scoring attack. Gerry Gallagher's eight points was high for the losers.

BOWLING NOTES

MAAD ON TOP. MAAD (90) held a slim game-and-a-half lead over Physics in the Faculty League to highlight Princeton bowling action last week. "C" Operations (88) took third place with 84 points. In other league bowling, Prince Laundro and Sportsmen No. 2 remained tied for first place in the "B" loop with 40 points each, and Yeoman's maintained its 15-point margin over Shelton Motors (36) in the "A" League.

In the Industrial League, Race Nassau Del (73) was one game ahead of Tiger Garage and two games ahead of the Reformers. Hook and Ladder "H" led the Tri-County Fireman's League with 34 points, followed by Kingston and Belle Mead, tied at 32 points each.

Craft Cleaners topped the Women's loop with 56 points and held a one-game edge over Applegate Floral Shop. Decker's Dairy took over the women's spot in the Women's Industrial League, one game ahead of Forsgate Country Club (34). Last week's leader, Thorne Pharmacy, dropped from first to fifth. The Zecolas held a four-point margin over the Roses in the Mixed League.

High scores in the Mixed League included Mike Zecola, 203; Sara Rose, 183; and Ina Bubeck, 151. Dot Moore had the high women's game for the week with 209 in the Women's Industrial loop. STEVE VEHSLEGE
Squash Champion

Herbert Hoover was still the tenant in the White House when the first inter-collegiate squash tournament was held in 1932. In the intervening years, no one had ever won the event three straight times until a Princeton senior completed his career by doing so earlier this month.

He is Steve Vehlshage, whose statistical record of achievements is unparalleled in the history of the sport, here or elsewhere. In the last six years, he won 33 out of 35 matches, including three National Junior championships as the fore-runner to his trio of collegiate crowns.

A home next door to the Merion Cricket Club in Havard, Pa., was largely responsible for his starting to play squash at the age of 6. His first national junior title came just a decade later.

Squash is by no means his only sport. As a three-year-letter winner in soccer, he has twice received all-city honors. Last summer, he toured Europe as a member of the U.S. junior court tennis team.

Varied interests tend to remove the pressure from Vehlshage in his quests for championships. For example, he reports that his greatest thrill in sports was not winning the squash title a third time but "the first time I caught an Atlantic salmon" while deep-sea fishing off Labrador.

Victory in the 1961 tournament at Williamstown, Mass., was doubly sweet because Vehlshage's opponent in the final round was Yale's Ralph Howe, the only player who had beaten him in the past two years. The Princetonian took his measure, 11-15, 15-7, 15-9, 15-7.

In the past three decades, Princeton has produced a number of topflight squash players, and it is a real achievement on Vehlshage's part that he now ranks as the best among them.

The show will be open from 12 noon to 10 p.m. and refreshments will be available. Admission is 75 cents or $1 for a three-day ticket. All merchandise will be for sale.

DELTA GAMMAS TO MEET

Will Mark Founders' Day. The Trenton-Delaware Valley Delta Gamma Alumnae Association will hold its annual Founders' Day luncheon this Saturday at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Hans K. Sander, 309 Rosedale Road. All Delta Gamma alumnae planning to attend are asked to notify Mrs. Sander by Friday.

 Guest speaker will be Mrs. Curtis Roberts, Dover, Mass., national second vice president of Delta Gamma. She will be introduced by Mrs. Elmer Chase of 22 Hamilton Avenue, Province II collegiate secretary. Mrs. Alexander P. Robinson of Franklin Park will conduct the candlelighting ceremony. —Continued on Page 26

BUSINESS In Princeton

SHELTON MOVES

Agency in New Building. The Shelton Motor Company, Plymouth-Valliant dealer for the Princeton area, has moved to the new quarters, 870 State Road. The new brick-and-block building has 2750 square feet of sales service and office space, approximately 3200 feet more than the previous building at 300 Witherspoon Street.

The new structure stands on a plot of land with 350 feet of frontage and 200 feet of depth. The building, designed by Anthony Nitti, owner of Shelton's, was built by Joseph Paquillo Brothers of Lawrenceville, Ga.

The Shelton Motor Company, founded by Frank Shelton, had been in business for 14 years in the Witherspoon location. Mr. Nitti purchased the agency from Mr. Shelton in 1958. At his new building, he will offer, in addition to sales, complete service facilities. These will be available under the name of "Woody's" Smokers, a service manager for the past two years.

TO MAKE CARTONS HERE

In New Plant, one of the newest business enterprises in the Princeton area is the Princeton Carton Corporation, which will build a new plant this spring on Route One opposite the State Police barracks. Completion is scheduled for early May.

The corporation specializes in three quantity runs of folded cartons, and will employ about 30 persons in its new plant. Princeton Carton will have a research and development division, and has incorporated into its building plans the specifications for enlarging the plant within a short time.

Princeton Carton was organized this year by Joseph M. Dipolito, 937 Princeton Pike, formerly executive vice-president and general manager of the Swaney Folding Box Company. He chose Princeton as his headquarters because the area is half way between two refineries of National Sugar Refining Company, Princeton Carton's largest industrial customer.

Some of the Route One property was handled through William Schuessler, of Hilton Realty, Princeton.

LIQUOR APPEAL DENIED

Court Keeps License. The Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission last week dismissed the appeal of Renwick's against Borough Council and King's Court Restaurant and as a result, King's Court will keep the liquor license granted to it last spring by Council.

In its appeal, Renwick's charged that Borough Council

BREAK GROUND FOR NEW PLANT: The Princeton Carton Corporation will build a new plant on Route One near Ridge Road in South Brunswick Township and Mrs. Joseph M. Dipolito, wife of the president of the firm, turns the first shovelful of earth for the new building. Plant and offices will be red brick Colonial. Left to right: Robert Madigan, plant superintendent; Mr. Dipolito; William Schuessler, Hilton Realty agent who completed the sale; Edgar Rank, assessor for South Brunswick; Nicholas Maul, chairman of South Brunswick's industrial commission; Abraham Dolin, mayor of the Township and James Fucella, builder. (Fred Porter Photo.)

had failed to establish objective standards for passing on competitive applications for the one available license and had invited additional applications before passing on the Renwick application, which was pending before Council. Renwick's also cited the fact that it had been in Princeton longer than King's Court, and claimed that it had better accommodations and a manager with more professional qualifications. Attorneys for the restaurant also charged that Council had held hearings in secret.

William H. Davis, director of the A.B.C., said that, after examining all the testimony, he had concluded that the procedure used in processing the various applications was "not subject to criticism" and that Renwick's had failed to establish that Council was arbitrary or prejudiced.

Mr. Davis also cited the A.B.C.'s "long-established principle" which, he said, leaves to the issuing authority the question of granting a liquor license to a particular location.

OFFICERS ELECTED

At Edmund Cook and William H. Karch, supervisor of management for Edmund Cook and Company was elected assistant secretary of the company at the annual meeting.

Other officers, all re-elected, are Edmund A. Cook, chairman of the Board and president; Marjorie S. Kerr, vice-president; Raymond Palmer, treasurer; and Robert E. Dougherty, secretary.

PHILLIPS PROMOTED

By Opinions Research, Benjamin M. Phillips of Park Avenue, Pennington, has been promoted to the position of research director at Opinions Research Corporation. Associated with ORC since 1946, Mr. Phillips was previously in the banking and accounting field.

Other recent promotions include those of Lorin Zissman of Griggstown to survey director, or Frank C. Cox of Fairview Avenue, Princeton, to be survey director. Mr. Zissman, who has been with ORC since 1936, was formerly with Benson and Benson. Mr. Cox, with ORC since 1953, was previously on the staff of the American Institute of Public Opinion.

CW MADE X-15 PAINT

For Record Flight. The "Chameleon" paint, the changed color to indicate the sharp temperature increases in the "skull" of the X-15 during its record 2500 m. P.H. flight, is a product of the Princeton division of the Curtiss-Wright Co.

Corporation, Lawrence Township.

The paint, known as "Deflect-temp," comes in more than 30 varieties, designed to cover a wide temperature spectrum. Some of the varieties change color only once or twice when they reach pre-determined temperatures. The paint used on the X-15 started out blue, and progressively turned blue, yellow, black and brown as the temperature of the metal rose of the rocket plane increased with air friction.

During the nine-minute flight the rocket nose reached a top temperature of about 700 degrees Fahrenheit. The color change in the paint does not occur until the surface to which it has been applied reaches a certain temperature point.

NEW OFFICE OPENED

By Hammer Electronics. A new sales and service office, covering Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia, has been opened in Washington, D.C. by Hammer Electronics Co., Inc.

The sales district represents a prime market for the firm, according to Lloyd Hamner, president. Hammer Electronics manufactures nuclear instruments and systems for industrial, scientific and medical research. Many of its products are installed in various departments of the National Bureau of Standards, the nuclear reactor and Van de Graaf facilities of the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory, and other government research organizations. In addition, Hamner has installed equipment in the nuclear physics department of Johns Hopkins University, Catholic University of America, George Washington University and others. Hamner is located on the Lawrenceville-Pennington Road, Pennington.

Sports In Princeton

TIGERS TRIUMPH

For First NCAA Victory. Despite the early loss of its captain and standout rebound artist, Don Swan, Princeton's basketball team easily defeated George Washington in NCAA competition Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden.

The 84-67 triumph was the first credited to an Orange and Black team in post-season play, and the first for an Ivy entry in NCAA action since Dartmouth turned the trick 39 years ago. As a result, Acting Coach Jake McCandless will take his team to Charlotte, N. C., for Friday's second round contest against St. Joseph's of Philadelphia.

Princeton dominated action from the beginning on Tuesday, jumping away to a 3-0 lead, trailing briefly at 4-3 and 8-7 and then moving out for good. At the 13-minute mark of the first half the Tigers had a 28-20 lead and they left the floor at half-time in front by 61-34. They led by upwards of ten during most of the second period.

Sharpshooter Pete Campbell, an all-Ivy choice for a second year in a row, had his best night of the season as he hit for an invaluable 17 points. Al Kaemmerlien, allied with Campbell, was credited with 16 as was sophomore Art Hyland.

Hyland's gum-shoe defense dogging of George Washington's Jon Feldman was a major factor in the one-sided triumph. Feldman had hit for 45 in the game, but he knelt the southerners into NCAA play but Hyland pared him all the while down to 11.

Confronted with the loss of Don Swan in the third minute of the game, McCandless ran his bench to the hilt. Mike Higgins and then Mike Burton performed extremely well in emergency duty. Tom Adams did a stand-out job in spelling Al Kaemmerlien.

Swan was knocked to the floor in a rough scramble for the ball, suffered a severely cut forehead and a mild concussion. He will be out of action at Charlotte, with his steadiness and rebounding sure to be missed by the Tigers in Princeton.

Strong St. Joseph. Unless Princeton wins Friday, it will face the loser of the Wake Forest-St. Bonaventure game on Saturday.

HUN ATHLETES HONORED

At Sports Dinner. Five awards and the naming of six in the "skull" of the annual Winter Sports Banquet held Saturday at the Hun School. Given to the athlete who has shown the most desire to improve himself, the Hun School Coaches Award in wrestling was awarded to Tim Welsh. The same award in swimming went to Douglas Clark who placed fourth in the New Jersey diving competition among high school and prep school teams.

The Schwenk Memorial Award, presented to the player who has done the most for his team, was awarded to Jay Maynell, high-scoring forward in the Hun basketball team. The Sieja Award for proficiency in fencing was presented to Abdul Faisal, Abdul won the New Jersey interscholastic fencing championship on March 1 when he defeated the defending titlist, Curtis Central of Newark Academy, 5-0. Wrestling standout, Paul Savidge who won the state interscholastic heavyweight title for the second straight year, was given an award for his feat. Paul and his brother, Peter Savidge, were named captains elect of the 1961 Hun wrestling team. Other captains-elect include Gary Grover and Jim Byers, basketball; Mike Wang, fencing; and Doug Kirk and John Pitney, swimming.

A former Hun student and present head football and track coach of Swarthmore College, Lou Elverson, was the main speaker for the event.

A resident of the Rocky Hill Road, Mr. Pink was the author of the New Jersey Poll, syndicated in state newspapers, as well as a nationally distributed column called "The Man on the Street." He set up his polling firm in 1947. His material was used by the New York Times, newspapers and 100 throughout the country.

A native of England, Mr. Pink came to this country at the age of nine and attended schools in Pennsylvania. He was a graduate of Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., with the class of 1927, and held a master's degree from New York University.

Prior to moving to Princeton in 1942 to join Opinion Research Corporation, he was head of the English department at North Plainfield High School.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Margaret Spence Pink; a daughter, Miss Jane Pink, a sophomore at Drew University in Madison; a sister, Mrs. Sarah Trachtenberg; and three brothers, Harry Pink, Max Pink and Alexander Pink, all of Phoenixville, Pa.

The funeral will be held this Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Kingston Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Clarence K. Bricker, pastor, and the Rev. Henry W. Heaps, former pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Report from THE MAYOR

Understanding. Less than one year has passed since the Mayor appointed the chairman for Princeton observance of the United Nations activities. Bill MacCallum headed the outstanding efforts. Last October saw every community group involved in special events.

The theme of last fall's effort was "This is a Beginning." Now, under Chairman Steve Vuglien, the local committee has scored another impressive gain in citizen understanding of our world. Last Tuesday's public meeting saw an overflow crowd of more than 400 persons at Woodrow Wilson Hall trying to get within "earshot" of Mayor Ambassador Marko Nikeic.

The Ambassador spoke very candidly in describing his country's unusual posture in the current struggle between East and West. He fielded dozens of tough questions from a Princeton panel and from an audience intent on finding out the policies and views of a nation which has carved out a very unique foreign policy in today's troubled world. Princeton's own George Kenan, newly-designated Ambassador from the United States to Yugoslavia, was present at the meeting, as were the wives of the two ambassadors.

More To Come. Proof that all this, too, is "just a beginning" can be found in the fact that the local UN committee is already planning its next ventures in developing Princeton's growing interest in international understanding. The hospitality committee has made the first trips to the UN in New York as part of their arrangements to promote family visits here.

Former UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, writing in a national magazine, described the bitterness of some foreign delegates after three years of

AWARDS PRESENTED

To Pack 48 Members. At the monthly meeting of Pack 48 in the First Presbyterian Church, 27 members of the troop received over 30 awards from Chairman Ted Falovich, Jeff Frangos, Randy Calcutt, Douglas Adams and Keith Fowler all received Lion badges and were accepted into the Webelos den in order to prepare for Boy Scouts. Also receiving Lion badges were Michael Skillman, Ralph Davis, James Moore, William Brooks, Mark Adams, and Curt Kimbell.

Thomas Rose and Brent Vine received Bear badges and Mark Falovich and Glenn Roberts, Bobcat awards. Arrow awards went to Jeff Bannan, Kenneth Buehler, James Collins, Fred Park, Steven Vine, Calcutt, Skillman, Rose, and David Falovich. Jeff Buckman, Andy Baird and Charles Holland received the highest Cub award, the Webelos badge, and an official Troop 48 boy Scout neckerchief.

"Only Sundays" in the often-cold City of New York. The warmth of Princeton hospitality can help to answer this need. This community has a unique opportunity to serve and to demonstrate our way of life in a relaxed, natural atmosphere.

Drop-Outs. Nationally, we must be concerned about the 30 percent of American youngsters who drop out of school before they earn a high school diploma. Here in Princeton special attention is being given to this and to other aspects of the youth employment picture.

The Mayor begins this week a speaking tour of the local service clubs in behalf of the proposed youth employment service. The Council of Community Services is very much interested in this problem. Teenagers have been expressing great interest in it, and prospective employers have made inquiries about it.

Friday Open House. The regular weekly "Tell it to the Mayor" sessions will be held on Friday, March 17, and Friday, March 21, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

Last week's visitors included one resident who offered to do some experimenting in the hope of finding solutions to one of this winter's prime headaches: the deterioration of street surfaces, curbs and sidewalks caused by the severe weather. Modern chemistry may hold an answer to a perennial municipal headache.
